A product of many years of research by the famous MAGNAVOX engineers — embracing entirely new scientific principles of construction, it is believed to be the ultimate in radio loud speakers. The “opposed pole piece” is an exclusive Magnavox patented feature. The “Warwick” has greater power with fewer parts and a coil that takes full “B” current of a power tube without over-heating. Absolutely no possibility of rattling or distortion.

(Q.)—How high the crossbar be from the ground? What is the distance between the goalposts? What is the height of the corner flags and the height of the centre of the field? What is the weight and size of the ball?

(A.)—The crossbar is eight feet from the ground. The goalposts are 24 feet apart. The corner flags are less than five feet in height. At the commencement of the game the ball should weigh from 14 to 16 ounces, and in circumference should be not less than 21 inches nor more than 28 inches.

(Q.)—Is it possible for a referee's decision? Suppose a referee awarded a goal, and subsequently proved beyond doubt that the decision was wrong, could the F.A. or League overrule the referee and reverse his decision?

(A.)—The duties of the referee are to enforce the laws in all disputed points. His decisions on points of fact concerning the play are final, and cannot be altered.

As the laws are framed the Football Association cannot alter a referee's decision as to a point of fact. The League have not the authority to deal with matters so far as a referee's ruling on the field is concerned.

The League's power is far as removing a referee from their official list if they are satisfied with the way a series of games have been conducted.

(Q.)—Is a player who takes the ball from a corner kick not offside, even in the case of his being nearer to the goal than the goalkeeper?

(A.)—No.

Amateur Status.

THE NEW DEFINITION OPTED BY AUSTRALIAN ASSOCIATION.

The Association fosters and encourages amateur football, and con-trades professional football.

Players are either amateur or professional.

A player registered by an Associated Association as a professional is recognised as such by the Australian Association, and by all the Associated Associations.

An amateur player shall not receive any payment for playing football.

An amateur player shall give a written receipt for any payment in respect of colours, travelling and hotel expenses, stating particulars of expenses, and affiliated associations and clubs must provide such receipt to this Association at any time if required to do so.

An amateur player is entitled to a club or an Association in capacity for which he receives remuneration, the club or Association may be required to make the satisfaction of this condition that his services as a professional do not affect the amount of remuneration paid him.

A player taking part in a competition for money prizes is a professional.

A player may receive at the discretion of his club or Association the services of a coach or trainer, or of masseuses or specialists, or of his training, or when he is fit by insurance, the presumption of which have been paid by the club or Association, and with the consent of his State Association shall be entitled to receive his doctor's fees, or the proceeds of any benefit match, subscription or collection, without losing his amateur status.

9. An amateur player loses his qualification as such when a decision of his State Association declares him a professional. If declaring his wish to become a professional, he shall be a professional when his request has been agreed to by his State Association.

10. A professional player shall not be allowed to serve on the Council of this Association, or on the Council or Committee of any Association or club, or represent his own or any other Association or club at any football meeting.
When any person gives notice in writing to the secretary of this or a State Association that he has ceased to play football, such person may be exempt from the operation of this rule, if his State Association so decides.

11. A player who is prepared to make an affidavit that no money or other consideration has been paid for his services as a footballer in any code is to be regarded as an amateur until and unless a decision of his State Association declares him to be otherwise.

12. Players arriving from outside the Commonwealth shall be regarded as amateur players on landing in Australia.

13. Each professional approved by a State Association shall be registered on a form to be supplied by the secretary of this Association.

Each form, after all particulars have been filled in, including the date of signature, must be signed by the professional (his signature being attested), and returned to the secretary of his State Association within five days of such signature, accompanied by a copy of the agreement entered into between the club and the player. A professional shall not be allowed to play in a competition match as a professional until this rule has been complied with, and the club registering the player shall have received an acknowledgment on the official form from its State Association.

14. The State Association shall have power to cancel the registration of a professional at any time upon application of the player or of his club, or may transfer him from one club to another, subject to the constitution and rules of the Association. A professional transferred must be re-registered by the club to which he is transferred.

15. Clubs must have written agreements with their professional players, stating all the terms of the engagements, and such agreements must be completed when the player signs the registration form.

16. State Associations may, with the approval of this Association, make further regulations providing for the control of the professional player.

Football Arguments.

(Q.)—Is 3-2 a one clear goal victory?

(A.)—Certainly. It is as much a one clear goal victory as 1-0.
The statement that only the latter score can be regarded as a clear goal victory is merely a "gag." If one team scored 100 goals and the other 99 that would be a clear margin of one goal. The fact of the matter is that the phrase "clear goal" has no meaning. A goal is a goal whether it be clear, unclear, or anything else.

EASTERN SUBURBS.

Easts were most unfortunate in not gaining a couple of points at Holmesville's expense last Saturday. Robinson in goal gave the worst exhibition of his career with Easts, and should have saved at least two out of the four goals scored. What a pity he did not act on the advice given in these columns last week to "get down" to the ball instead of trying to stop shots with his feet—it is a terrible mistake for a goalkeeper to make when he is allowed the use of his hands. A good goalie will always face the ball and drop on one knee to stop ground shots, then if he cannot gather the ball in his arms his body will stop it and assist him. F. Lambie will be the custodian against Cardiff to-day at Newcastle, and it is sincerely hoped that he will justify his inclusion.

Clilverd should never have been allowed to play, as he had not recovered from a previous injury, and it was neither fair to him nor his club to utilise his services; he was merely a passenger throughout the game, and under the circumstances Easts' forwards and half-backs did remarkably well to score four goals. Holmesville is a fairly good team, and the forwards gave Easts' defence a torrid time on many occasions. The Tricolours' half-backs played a hard game, but the lack of understanding between them and the forwards is very noticeable; there is also too much ballooning of the ball when passing to the forwards instead of ground passes. Lockhead was the best of the halves. Featherstone will again appear at inside-right to-day, and if he plays unselfishly, then the whole forward line should show up well. It is a great pity that Jock Comrie could not accompany the team, but Moran should prove a good substitute and ably partner R. Lambie. Cardiff will certainly have to exert their utmost endeavours to prevent the Tricolours from collecting the two points.

Easts' Second Grade team is doing very well, and has suffered only one defeat in 5 games. However, they will require to be "all out" to win to-day's game against Auburn, who are playing in fine form this season. Caminiti in goal for Easts has performed well to date, but he will have to cease juggling with the ball and get rid

Did You Know That—

The Pyrmont selectors are very satisfied with their present team, and believe it to be superior to that which fielded for them last year.

* * *

In Booth and Richards they have unearthed champions, and these two players have already made their presence felt.

* * *

Bob McKinney believes that Richards is the best centre-half in Australia, and the new centre-half's displays to date have certainly been fine.

* * *

Two good juniors in Turner (right-half) and Quill (inside-right), are above the ordinary and should go a long way.

* * *

Ireland, Balmain's right wing, is playing in good form, and 'Main supporters believe him to be the best in the competition.

* * *

Dickins, of Easts, has improved on last year, and is the Suburb's best forward.

* * *

The decision of Stan. Bourke to go over to the League, did not distress Auburnites. They believe that the juniors will yet show some of the seniors how to play.

* * *

South Sydney has a fine organiser in Secretary Harman. Souths have over thirty players signed on.

Forwards, Hetherington, Kent, Stewart and Clayton, of Norths, have all shaped well to date. Clayton's two goals against Easts were gems, and reminded the spectators of Robertson, of Gladesville.

of it more quickly. O'Connor will take Moran's place at left-back, and Harry English will play at centre-half. The latter should be of great assistance to the local team. Reid's failure at centre last week has necessitated him being placed on the right wing, whilst Batchelor will play inside. Haynes will be given a trial at centre, and if the other forwards keep putting the ball across in good style, then Fred. should get goals. Caminiti and Flowers play well on the left wing, and will no doubt do well to-day.

Robertson, by the way, promised to play for Easts against Holmeville, but the influences were strong, and he changed his mind.

Many of the State League players are not happy in their present company, and would like to go back to the "amateur" ranks.

Jim Driscoll, again with main, has given some good intentions to date. He has a good player in Pont.

The three Balmain boys, Robertson, Seddon and Byers, are earning a name for themselves and all three play fine football.

Suddick, of Balgownie, is a player, although he has not lived up to the high hopes that were entertained of him.

Report has it that Judy Main will not play for another week. Judy is secretary of Balgownie, and is busy in charge for the improvement of the Balgownie ground.

The North Sydney Club is efficiently organised, with its working executive ever on alert to give promising players a trial. Secretary Edwards, president Silverlock, and the committee are to be congratulated on the team which they got together.

Football Arguments.

(Q.)—A penalty kick was ed the home team, and after the kick had been taken there was an argument on this point. The player who took the kick straight at the goalkeeper, saved, and the ball rebounded into play. The player who took the kick followed up, but as he was going to kick the ball again, one of his clubmates behind him told him to let it come. If he had let it go to his clubmate, would he have put himself in an offside position or not?

(A.)—The answer is that he allowed the ball to pass and go to his own player, and the latter got the ball the first (that is, the player who took the penalty kick) automatically put himself in an offside position. He was then in front of the ball and had not two opponents in their own goal-line.
